Are you a Delaware landlord? Help our vets!

Governor Jack Markell is asking landlords to help in the state's effort to end and prevent veteran homelessness. "Members of our military make sacrifices every day on our behalf," said Governor Jack Markell. "And even one homeless veteran in Delaware is too many."

Are you a Delaware landlord? Visit DeStateHousing.com/Vets to enter basic contact information, provide the Zip code of your property and let us know if you have a current vacancy. We'll put you in touch with nonprofit service providers, help fill your vacancy and offer more information on how you can help. By working together, we can end veteran homelessness.

DSHA Think Pink!

October is breast cancer awareness month, and many of us have seen this disease impact our family, friends, and loved ones over the years.

To help raise awareness and highlight the importance of cancer education and research, DSHA employees wore pink to honor those affected by the disease.

Visit the American Cancer Society and the National Breast Cancer Foundation to learn more.
