DSHA celebrates Flats redevelopment

Governor John Carney, DSHA Director Anas Ben Addi and others helped celebrate redevelopment progress in Wilmington's Flats neighborhood today. The Flats I and II projects are supported with $6.5 million from Delaware's Housing Development Fund, and will result in 144 affordable housing units in Wilmington. The project is being redeveloped by the Todmorden Foundation and the Woodlawn Trustees.

like this and strengthen neighborhoods across our city, we're strengthening our state," Governor Carney said.

"I want to thank all of the people who made this project possible, and I want to congratulate and thank the people who will live in the Flats."

Director Ben Addi noted that reshaping communities like the Flats involves a lot of money, partners, and hard work, but is fundamentally all about helping people. "That's why we're here today - it's for the 144 families who will have a safe, decent apartment at the end of the day," he said.
